1. Introduction

The basic idea is to create a blogging site for normal people to understand basic law in easy words plus the feature for their native language.
Every citizen will get to understand the law of different countries in their native language.

2. Expected List of Features

1. Create account: - to create the account for different users blogging on site.
2. Create Blog: - to create the blog.
3. Change Blog: - this is only for admin to check if the information is correct or not.
4. Comments: - end users can give feedback on the post.
5. Change language: - end users can view the blog in their native language.
6. Homepage: - All the topics to read a blog and some of top blogs.

3. Market Survey

1. Above the Law: - Above the Law is a news website about law, law schools, and the legal profession
2. Law.com:- Think of Law.com as your all-inclusive legal newspaper
3. InhouseBlog: - The evergreen InhouseBlog focuses on the latest industry findings and what they mean for in-house legal teams.
4. LawSites: - LawSites focuses specifically on legal technology and offers insights into new legal tech products and websites.
5. CLOC: - The Corporate Legal Operations Consortium (CLOC) blog is great for catching up on best practices in legal operations.

4. References

I didn't find any similar website. There are many blogs on different websites but not on a single site.